

Press release

Antwerp,
October 16, 2014

NaviGaytion postponed until 2016

Well-known boatparty NaviGaytion was last held in Antwerp in 2009 whereas the return of the event was planned for June 2015. However, recently the organizers Ludo Smits and Ann Van Den Eeden decided to postpone NaviGaytion to June 2016.

2015 was supposed to be the year that NaviGaytion was given the start of a second life. But after thorough consultations with the events office of the City of Antwerp the organizers decided to postpone the event.

They recently learned Antwerp will also welcome the famous giants of Royal de Luxe on the date that was pinned down for NaviGaytion – June 20 2015. The giants' three day stay in Antwerp, from the 19th until the 21st of June 2015, will have all eyes on them. Their last visit to the city attracted over 800.000 visitors, which we believe could lead to logistic and practical complications for the organization of NaviGaytion.

Because no other 2015 date on the international gay calendar is suitable, NaviGaytion will be moved to 2016 – probably during the third weekend of June. The communication and marketing plans are getting amended as we speak, in order to make the 2016 edition even more spectacular than what we had planned for 2015.

Note for the editorial team:

More info available via info@kabuki.be, via our website www.navigaytion.eu or via 0032 322 22 43.